

“Because democratic life requires pluralism, we repudiate political systems, parties, movements, laws, regulations, and policies that raise any group of people, including Christians, above others by granting them special rights and privileges. Specifically, we repudiate the tenets of Christian Nationalism and the idea that Christians or Christianity should hold a place of privilege and power in our nation’s governance.”

from a Statement presenting “A Christian Defense of Democracy”

Written by Catholic, Protestant, Orthodox and Evangelical scholars

Signed by over 200 faith leaders

“Test of Faith: A Summit to Defend Democracy”

Washington, D.C.

September 2024