“Independent Charismatic leaders [believe they are] divinely anointed apostles and prophets, empowered by the Holy Spirit to awaken the church into a great end-times revival. They [believe they are] generals of spiritual warfare, equipped with special authority to destroy demonic strongholds and orchestrate campaigns of Christian prayer combat.”

“[They seek to] take over whole societies to build the kingdom of God on earth.”

“No presidential candidate truly excited them until Donald Trump appeared on the scene.”

“[These] hyper-politicized Independent Charismatic celebrity colleagues have cornered the market on supernaturally steered Christian rage. They have brought their style of Christianity into the heart of right-wing politics.”

“[Nationally and globally] Independent Charismatics ... are growing like gangbusters, while other forms of Christianity are holding steady or declining.”
