

Why Go to School?

Professor Epictetus says. . .

“Who is it that goes to school anyway?
Who goes to become a better person?
Who goes prepared to have their opinions overhauled,
and to learn which ones need to be?

So don't be disappointed if you return home with the very same set of ideas you arrived with. Because you had no intention of changing, correcting or adopting others in their place.

So at least consider this—are you getting what you did come for?”

~Discourses II:21